

Photo by Maja Kochanowska

RISK 580: Advanced Enterprise Risk Management (3 units)

Wed. 6:30 pm – 9:30 pm

WHY RISK 580?

1. Practical Application of ERM Principles

Real-world case studies, dynamic group projects, and hands-on problem-solving across various industries.

2. Insights from Industry Leaders

Learn directly from guest speakers representing top companies. Past speakers have been from companies such as General Motors, Alaska Airlines, Lyft, and Banc of California. Learn from your professor's experience as an accounting, audit, and ERM executive at YUM Brands, Starbucks, Delta Airlines, and the United Nations.

3. Leadership Skills Development

This course equips you with the tools to transform risks into strategic opportunities and develops your abilities to think, talk, and act like business leaders.

4. Networking Opportunities

Collaborate on group projects with like-minded professionals, connect with industry experts, and join discussions with C-suite leaders and board members who bring real-world challenges into the classroom.

5. Versatile Skills for Any Industry

The skills and frameworks you develop in this course can be applied to any field or career.

MENTORSHIP PROGRAM

RISK 580 students receive one-on-one mentorship from top risk management professionals.

FULL-TIME OPPORTUNITIES

Over 25 companies supporting USC's Arkley Institute for Risk Management have been actively recruiting students this academic year.

FALL 2025 MEET THE RISK MANAGEMENT PROFESSIONALS EVENT

RISK 580 students gain exclusive access to this career fair featuring over 30 top employers.

For more information, please contact Professor Kristen Jaconi, Executive Director, Peter Arkley Institute for Risk Management, USC Marshall School of Business, kjaconi@marshall.usc.edu.

USC Marshall
School of Business
Peter Arkley Institute
for Risk Management

RISK 599: Conduct, Culture, and Ethics Risk Management Through Films (3 units)

Tues. 6:30 pm – 9:30 pm, No Prerequisites

WHY RISK 599?

Learn to identify and manage the most significant culture, conduct, and ethics risks through films, including The Big Short, Ex Machina, and The Crime of the Century.

Explore daunting questions, including:

- Is a Corporation a Moral Being?
- Will Artificial Intelligence One Day Be Our Master?
- Has Financialization of Our Economy Gone Too Far?

MENTORSHIP PROGRAM

RISK 599 students receive one-on-one mentorship from top risk management professionals.

FULL-TIME OPPORTUNITIES

Over 25 companies supporting USC's Arkley Institute for Risk Management have been actively recruiting students this academic year.

FALL 2025 MEET THE RISK MANAGEMENT PROFESSIONALS EVENT

RISK 599 students gain exclusive access to this career fair featuring over 30 top employers.

For more information, please contact Professor Kristen Jaconi, Executive Director, Peter Arkley Institute for Risk Management, USC Marshall School of Business, kjaconi@marshall.usc.edu.